Procedure for the Recruitment of Maternity Cover

- 1. Departments should consider whether there is scope to cover maternity leave using extaffng resources.
- 2. Where this is not possible, atalf Request Form (SRF) for maternity leave cover should be renewal for a further period if required)

- 4. If cover for a longer duration is proposferdm the outset, the rationale for this should be included when submitting the SRF for and associated documentation in his might for example be the case for specialist roles for which the recruitment market is such that contract for ashorter period would not attract suitable applicants. Where approval for a 12 month appointment is requested, the following condition apply:
 - a) the member of staff requesting the maternity leave has stathe intention to be off for the full 12 months;
 - b) in the case of an earlier return to work, the contract of the temporary replacement will be terminated as soon as possible unless:
 - i. (s)he can be releployed to cover another maternity leave which has arisen in the meantime, or
 - ii. additional incomewill be generated by the individualifficient to cover the salary cost for the remainder of the contract term.
- 5. The cost code to charge should be the usual
